

Dear Teacher,

Thank you for embracing the Global Dream Literacy Now Mission.

Please ensure:

- Understand the importance of the mission and not to enroll learners who are already literate (we have had that issue in the past); how honesty and integrity will make them highly contributing members of society
- Clear any doubts – especially they need to know this is a compulsory part of their studies under SUPW – Socially Useful and Productive Work – Grades will be given based on their work reflected automatically on the app
- Explain that they can take help of others including their family members
- Ensure they know their goal is to make at least one person completely literate and numerate, nothing less
- Ensure all your students download the app and register themselves
- Motivate them to immediately add their learners (they can add more than one learner)
- Start by taking a pre-test of their learners (without helping them with answers)
- Commence teaching using the videos and the physical toolkits (give importance to app based learning as it will collect data on their use)
- Prepare the learners for taking the post-test followed by verification
- Go over the verification process

Please let them know

- They will spend 15–20 minutes per day with their learner each day, not more; that daily teaching is better than sporadic teaching even for longer duration.
- They will first take up READING (covering entire Book 1 and half of Book 2) before the end of the Summer Break. The goal is to have their learners capable of reading newspapers. (Share link www.getilearn.org/alfa where 5 to 7 year olds are reading newspapers).
- They will make upload pictures and videos of their work on the app and can invite others to join the effort also.
- There will be a Festival of Literacy in the first week of July when they resume school where their portfolios will be shared. A second Festival of Literacy will take place later in the year once the learners have qualified the literacy and numeracy test.
- They will receive certificates for themselves and their learners after verification.
- They will get a grade on their teaching assignment in both half-yearly and yearly report card.

Please keep in touch with your children throughout the summer (say once a week) with your motivating words and to ensure your students have found their learners and are teaching them and that you are getting pictures and videos of the same in the WhatsApp groups for your classes.

Wishing you the very best with the Literacy Now Mission and wish you a very happy and well-deserved summer break.

With warm wishes,

Dr. Sunita Gandhi

DID YOU KNOW?

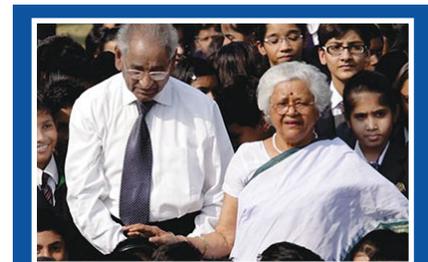

1. 70% of 10-year-old children cannot read or write post-COVID?
2. 53% of the 10-year-olds could not read or write before the COVID.
3. Millions of children have left school due to the COVID and are not coming back, wiping out 20 years of gains in education. (UNICEF / UNESCO)

Make a DREAM PORTFOLIO

As Easy as A C T S

Make a DREAM PORTFOLIO of your work with the learners as suggested here. Add creative ideas of your own. Let this be your portfolio for life!

Share entries in your portfolio on social media and invite your friends and family to become champs for literacy by teaching learners of their own. Share your portfolio at forthcoming Festivals of Literacy.

PRE & POST TEST

Register yourself and your learners on www.literacynow.app. Add new learners as you teach more of them. Take a pre-test of your learners on the app before you begin teaching. This will give you a good understanding of where your learners are today and to gauge how much difference you have made by your efforts. Give your learners the post-test after mastery of all the objectives of literacy and numeracy.

Keep a record of the practice work and tests in your portfolio.

Ask for VERIFICATION on the app once your learners are ready for third-party evaluation. We know you are working to make a difference. In acknowledgment, you will receive your much deserved certificate as a Literacy Champion and we will find more ways to celebrate your success.

KEEP A LOG

Keep a log of your daily progress, accomplishments and challenges. Plan for your next session and note down any homework assignments you give your learner.

Maybe sometimes you can lend the learners the books in this Toolkit but make sure these are returned. They are your copy and you can use one set with multiple learners.
